

Prior Art Search & Translation Japanese/Chinese/Korean

The only search firm that can search
Japanese prior art
using Japanese with deliverables in English

Why search Japanese/Chinese prior art:

Patent information in Japanese and Chinese are prime sources of prior art.

However, patent information in Japanese and Chinese are difficult to access and interpret, because of language barrier and differences in these patent systems.

Why us:

Unlike some search firms that can only search English abstracts for Japanese and Chinese prior art, we search prior art using Japanese, Chinese and other local languages, and send you a report and other supporting documents in English by fully utilizing a combination of our knowledge and expertise in search skills, technical background, patent practice, linguistic skills, and machine translation technology.

What we provide:

Gongwell has been providing prior art search service to patent attorneys, IP managers and technical leaders of Fortune 500 companies for over a decade.

We focus on our strengths in searching and translating Japanese, Chinese, and Korean patent information.
